. . Pyaar Hai (meaning Love in English) is a 2000 Indian romantic thriller film written, produced and directed by . . . Pooja Bhatt and produced by . . . Ashok Bapna. Plot Rohit has just started college and lives in the Maharaja college campus. He has feelings for Sonia but never acknowledges them. One day, he sees a mysterious girl playing a guitar in the college. He follows her, and learns her name is Mayuri. He visits her apartment and learns she sings. He develops feelings for her. Mayuri, then, sees Rohit following her, and he is crushed when he finds out she's an idolized singer. He still, however, continues to see her.

Rohit then comes to know that Sonia is also following her. He tries to keep the fact from Sonia, but Sonia finds out and believes Mayuri is really a drug addict. Mayuri then phones Rohit and asks him to visit her apartment. Rohit does so, and finds Sonia also there. He is angry and jealous but does not open his eyes to it. Sonia visits Mayuri and finds out what Rohit was hiding from her. When Rohit comes back, he is shocked to see Sonia arguing with Mayuri and Mayuri running away. He then calls her and asks her about it, and learns Sonia was the reason for Mayuri running away. He finally opens his eyes to Sonia and Mayuri's relationship, but only to realize Sonia is lying about Mayuri and is plotting to steal her away from him. He confronts her, but she attacks him and he falls down the stairs and is injured. Rohit goes to his friend Ashok, who is a doctor, and asks him to do something for his leg. Ashok tells him his condition is very serious and surgery is mandatory. Rohit demands a private hospital, but Ashok refuses. Mayuri finally sees Rohit and calls Sonia, who tells her Rohit was the one who got hurt. Sonia then tells Mayuri she can't stay there. Mayuri feels betrayed by Sonia and leaves with Rohit. Sonia and Rohit reunite, and Rohit tells Sonia she has to leave. Sonia leaves anyway, and Rohit is heartbroken. Rohit goes to hospital and tells the doctor Ashok his condition is serious and he needs surgery. But Ashok says the hospital is 82157476af
